PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT ON COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER UNIVERSITY PRIORITIES

(See Folio, 7 April 1977, page 4,

Board of Governors meeting.)

*The following statement has been received

For six years now we at the University of Alberta have had essentially static budgets. While the dollar figure has grown substantially during that time, our costs have grown more rapidly and little if any growth has been possible. Each year our budgeting has been largely a matter of dealing with immediate crises rather than one of planning our long-range activities and directing resources accordingly. There seems little chance of any substantial change from this no-growth pattern in the next few years, and accordingly the Board of Governors has asked me to set up a committee to consider University priorities and to recommend procedures by which our allocation of resources will reflect these priorities.

It must be emphasized from the start that this committee will have no executive powers: it is intended to be a high level "think tank" to explore the alternatives in greater depth than has been possible in the face of the pressures for short-range decisions under which most of us normally operate.

In order to provide the time and resources necessary for that I propose to arrange that members of the committee will devote a substantial part of their time to this work over a period of several months. The results of their work will be fed into our normal decision-making processes before decisions or actions are taken.

REUBEN BENJAMIN SANDIN LECTURES

The Department of Chemistry is sponsoring the sixteenth annual Reuben Benjamin Sandin Lecture Series, to be held on 4, 5, and 6 May. This year the lectures will be given by Sir John Cornforth, Professor in the School of Molecular Sciences, University of Sussex, and will cover part of the research for which he shared the Nobel Prize in Chemistry in 1975. The first lecture, at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, 4 May, is "Asymmetry and enzyme action"; the second, at 11 a.m. on Thursday, 5 May, is "The life and work of Sir Robert Robinson"; the third, at the same time the following day, is "Symmetry of squalene epoxidation in vivo." The lectures will be held in E1-60 Chemistry Centre.

Sir John Cornforth's most notable achievements are in the study of bio-organic chemistry. It is largely as a result of his work that modern biosynthetic research has been developed to its present level of refinement and that enzyme activity is being defined with increasing precision.

The Reuben Benjamin Sandin Lecture Series is held annually in honor of Professor Sandin, Professor Emeritus in the Department of Chemistry, who has served the University for more than forty years as a dedicated scholar and inspiring teacher of organic chemistry.

NEIL MACLEAN (MAC) PURVIS 1914 TO 1977

Neil MacLean (Mac) Purvis, Professor of Elementary Education, long-time teacher and educational leader in Alberta, died on 28 March. Professor Purvis graduated from Calgary Normal School in 1934 with distinction in student teaching; from this University he received his BSc in 1947 and his MEd in 1961. For fifteen years after graduating from Normal School, he taught in all grades of elementary and secondary school throughout the province.

He spent seven years as principal at Turner Valley and Athabasca. From 1949 to 1959, he was superintendent of schools at Taber and at Lamont; in these positions Professor Purvis was concerned with such things as centralization of school services and the development of effective in-service programs for teachers. While at Taber, he became deeply involved in curriculum development with the Department of Education. In 1959 he moved to Edmonton to become Associate Director of Curriculum. He was appointed Associate Professor of Elementary Education at this University in 1964.

Professor Purvis's main work in Elementary Education centered around the coordination of the elementary school teacher program for holders of approved degrees. Speaking of Professor Purvis's administrative talents, Al MacKay, Chairman of the Department, says that "convincing staff members of the need to integrate efforts for the PD/AD program and then organizing them into effective teaching teams is probably the outstanding manifestation of those talents."

Mac Purvis also worked as Director of the Northwest Territories Teacher Education Program, designed to prepare native teachers for northern schools. As Director, Professor Purvis gained the respect of both native leaders and officials of the Northwest Territories government. More recently, Mac Purvis was involved in Project Morning Star, another example of his involvement in, and concern for, native teacher education.

"Mac will be remembered by most," says Dr. MacKay, "as an outstanding and dedicated teacher. His efforts were, indeed, directed always toward the improvement of teaching, and he was an articulate spokesman for those concerned with providing more effective teacher education programs."

ALEXANDER J. COOK 1896 TO 1977

Alexander J. Cook, Professor Emeritus of Mathematics, for many years a respected teacher and an admired student counsellor, died on 4 April. Dr. Cook received his BSc from this University in 1920; in 1923 he received an MSc from Harvard. The following year he was appointed a full-time staff member, teaching mathematics. By 1929 he had acquired enough credits to be awarded a PhD in Mathematics from the University of Chicago.

While continuing to teach, Dr. Cook acted as Adviser of Student Veterans from 1947 to 1950. In 1950 he became Director of Student Advisory Services, the forerunner of Student Counselling Services. Dr. Cook worked as Director until 1961, when he returned to the Department of Mathematics. He then retired that year.

- Ronald T. Coutts, Professor of Pharmacy, was awarded the 1977 Medical Research Council of Canada Visiting Professorship to the College of Pharmacy, Dalhousie University, Halifax. He spent three days visiting the Dalhousie campus, discussing research topics with faculty members in Medicine and Pharmacy. He also gave three presentations: "In vitro and in vivo drug metabolism: isolation, separation, and identification of metabolites on N-alkylated amphetamines and analogs," "Toxicity of over-the-counter analgesics," and "Synthesis and pharmacological properties of N-hydroxylated amines and amides."
- Wilbur F. Bowker, Professor Emeritus of Law, will be awarded an Honorary Professorship by the University of Calgary's Faculty of Law at the Faculty's official opening ceremony on 23 April.

SURPLUS EQUIPMENT

The Purchasing Department wishes to encourage departments on campus to dispose of any surplus equipment that they might have. Disposal of surplus equipment is accomplished by completing a surplus equipment declaration form and forwarding it to the Purchasing Department, General Services Building. Equipment that has been declared as surplus will normally be listed in Folio. Proceeds from the sale of surplus equipment are usually credited to the account from which it was purchased, but this is not always the case.
